

The Reputable Firm:
How Digitalization of Communication Is Revolutionizing Reputation Management

Manuscript 11.6.2015

Pekka Aula & Jouni Heinonen

Pekka Aula*

Professor

Media and Communication Studies
Department of Social Research
University of Helsinki, FINLAND

Jouni Heinonen

CEO, Partner

Pohjoisranta Burson-Marsteller Oy
Helsinki, FINLAND

To our parents Kimmo and Aune; Pauli and Tuula.

Content

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| PREFACE .....  | 6   |
| 1 REPUTATION .....   | 12  |
| The waves .....  | 13  |
| Reputation is (almost) the be-all and end-all .....                  | 16  |
| Reputation is an intangible asset .....                              | 17  |
| Reputation is stories .....  | 18  |
| Reputation is time-dependent .....                                   | 20  |
| Reputation is space dependent .....                                  | 26  |
| Reputation ≠ image ≠ brand .....                                     | 32  |
| Reputational power .....   | 35  |
| The thrust of emotion .....  | 35  |
| Reputation and company performance .....                             | 42  |
| The financial and social dimensions of reputation .....              | 43  |
| The archetypes of reputation .....                                   | 45  |
| Reputation is a game between reality and perceptions .....           | 48  |
| Impacts of reputation .....  | 51  |
| The fundamentals of reputation building .....                        | 53  |
| A textbook case: Sea of trouble .....                                | 56  |
| 2 DIGITAL REVOLUTION OF COMMUNICATION .....                          | 65  |
| Viva la revolución .....   | 66  |
| Revolution is driven by social media .....                           | 68  |
| The game changer .....   | 71  |
| Social media is not necessarily activism—but it has true power ..... | 75  |
| When did we start trusting strangers? .....                          | 79  |
| Revolutionized publicity .....                                       | 80  |
| Mediatization .....  | 82  |
| The media crisis .....   | 83  |
| Advertising's credibility crisis .....                               | 86  |
| Every company is a media company .....                               | 88  |
| Don't push, pull instead .....                                       | 90  |
| The blessings and curses of publicity .....                          | 91  |
| Publicity goes digital .....   | 92  |
| The unlimited arenas of publicity .....                              | 93  |
| The publicity drivers of reputation .....                            | 95  |
| The paradox of control .....   | 97  |
| Reputation in digital revolution .....                               | 98  |
| Ambient publicity .....  | 100 |
| Diversities shaping new publicity .....                              | 102 |

|  |            |
|--|------------|
| Challenge for reputation management.....                 | 103        |
| 3 TOWARDS AN ACCOUNTABLE FIRM .....               | 109 |
| Erosion of trust .....                                   | 111        |
| The aftermath.....                                       | 112        |
| A need for change.....                                   | 115        |
| Restoring trust.....                                     | 116        |
| The end of CSR as we know it .....                       | 117        |
| Mere greenwashing?.....                                  | 118        |
| World according to Davis.....                            | 122        |
| CSR as business .....                                    | 124        |
| Where the savings end .....                              | 127        |
| The accountable firm .....                               | 128        |
| The magic carpet.....                                    | 129        |
| Accountability formula .....                             | 131        |
| 4 THE POWER OF CORPORATE PURPOSE .....            | 134 |
| Together at last: profit and purpose .....               | 138        |
| Financial sector poor in purpose.....                    | 142        |
| More companies are walking the talk .....                | 144        |
| Communicating corporate purpose .....                    | 147        |
| Four approaches to purpose communications.....           | 149        |
| Hey, hey, Fannie Mae .....                               | 150        |
| In search of authentic corporate purpose .....           | 152        |
| 5 EXTENDED CULTURE.....                           | 157 |
| The good spirit .....                                    | 158        |
| Identity is the core of organizational culture .....     | 159        |
| A classic: One unified culture .....                     | 162        |
| Classic revised: Towards cultural pluralism .....        | 164        |
| Cultural pluralism as a good undercurrent.....           | 165        |
| The power of corporate culture pluralism .....           | 167        |
| Corporate culture as revolts .....                       | 170        |
| The art of doing things differently .....                | 173        |
| Towards extended culture .....                           | 175        |
| Break the cage of restraining culture .....              | 176        |
| The anthropology of extended culture .....               | 178        |
| "We" are reputation's soul .....                         | 180        |
| Employees are not parts of an organization machine ..... | 181        |
| The thoroughbred organization.....                       | 185        |
| 6 STAKEHOLDERS REVISED .....                      | 189 |
| Hate, love, faith.....                                   | 191        |
| Are you trustworthy? .....                               | 194        |

|  |            |
|--|------------|
| Vulnerable brands .....  | 196        |
| Stakeholders and firms are engaged .....                             | 198        |
| Fear and mysticism: Stakeholder Group C .....                        | 200        |
| 7 RISK OF RISKS .....   | 204 |
| Reputation risk as number one risk .....                             | 206        |
| A textbook case: Toyota .....  | 208        |
| Learning from ash—and pizza.....                                     | 211        |
| The unusual suspects .....   | 213        |
| Strategic or operational risk, or does it really matter?.....        | 220        |
| Reputation risk in the digitalized media sphere.....                 | 222        |
| The puzzle for communications and risk professionals.....            | 225        |
| The dynamics of reputation risk in the digitalized media sphere..... | 228        |
| The key to handling reputation crises .....                          | 231        |
| Reputation risk and the C-suite.....                                 | 233        |
| Who should be responsible? .....                                     | 237        |
| Insuring reputation.....   | 241        |
| How best to prepare for reputation risks.....                        | 245        |
| 8 EVIDENCE-BASED REPUTATION MANAGEMENT .....                  | 249 |
| From communication to integrated model.....                          | 250        |
| A need for true evidence.....  | 251        |
| >Show me the money" .....  | 254        |
| Open vacancy for Chief Reputation Officer.....                       | 256        |
| Building blocks of evidence-based reputation management .....        | 259        |
| Block one: Analyzing the current state of affairs .....              | 260        |
| Block two: Making strategic choices.....                             | 267        |
| Block three: Planning action and implementation.....                 | 270        |
| Block four: Investing in reputation analytics.....                   | 288        |
| Evidence-based reputation management in practice.....                | 292        |
| The challenge.....   | 292        |
| Main findings of the analysis.....                                   | 293        |
| Strategic choices .....  | 295        |
| Implementation and results.....                                      | 296        |
| 9 THE REPUTABLE FIRM .....                                    | 298 |
| The drivers of the reputable firm .....                              | 299        |
| Reputation and the new age of somedialization .....                  | 300        |
| Living with round-the-clock reputational risks .....                 | 303        |
| Reputable firms and the culture of honor .....                       | 306        |
| Entering into dialogical reputation management.....                  | 309        |
| REFERENCES .....  | 313 |